

THE CARLISLE COLLECTION

your exclusive business opportunity

The opportunity of becoming a Carlisle Consultant combines all the best features of being in your own business. It appeals to your entrepreneurial spirit, engages your leadership qualities, establishes a self-driven career and invites you into the exciting world of fashion as an 'insider'. The profitability of your business is in direct proportion to the time and energy you put into it, and the client base is yours to build.

As a Carlisle Consultant, you become part of a company which has established, for over 30 years, a reputation as an exclusive style source. As an independent contractor, you are backed by a support system dedicated to seeing you succeed and receive professional training and marketing tools that contribute to the management and financial rewards of your business. Consultants also enjoy the benefit of a health insurance package. Your clients come by way of reaching out to personal and professional contacts within your community. You invite them to shop by private appointment in a gracious setting and assist them in creating wardrobes of the most beautiful clothes for each of the four fashion seasons of the year.

We provide you with sample sets of the Collections and you provide the personal attention that inspires clients to return season after season. The impeccable quality of the clothes you offer and the ongoing relationships you establish allow you to carve out a very special niche within your community and your life. Becoming a Carlisle Consultant is a business opportunity that promises financial freedom with the flexibility to balance family, civic and social commitments alike. Appealing to any woman who has a refined sense of style and a thirst to succeed, the opportunity to become a Carlisle Consultant is one you owe it to yourself to explore.
